

*D*on't spend too
 much time in mourning
 Tears are for the sad.
 I'm with Jesus now
 This should make you glad.
 Don't waste your hours in grieving,
 No need to feel distressed.
 I was tired of life's frustrations
 And had to get some rest.
 Don't vex yourself with questions,
 Or try to reason why.
 Life here for me has ended,
 It came my time to die.
 Don't lose the love I gave you,
 feed it with care.
 Grow it with devotion,
 spread it everywhere.
 Don't fret because my leaving,
 came in such a way.
 We'll have another meeting,
 on God's eternal day.

Acknowledgement

The family of Jessie M. Bush wishes to express our sincere appreciation and gratitude to all for the love and concern that has been shown to the family during her time of illness and our time of bereavement. Whatever did to console our hearts, we thank you so much, whatever the part. A very special thanks to Phyllis & Charles Mines, her home caregiver, Michelle Amtsberg, and UH-Bedford Community Hospital.

Obituary

Jessie M. Bush was born on May 3, 1928 in Bessemer, Alabama to Corance Avery and Rosa Avery Lewis. She was the eldest of three children.

She confessed Christ at an early age and was baptized at the Canaan Baptist Church while still in Bessemer. Jessie relocated with her family to Cleveland, Ohio in 1943 where she joined Second Ebenezer Baptist Church. Later, she moved her membership to Mt. Zion Church of Oakwood Village, Ohio.

After graduating from Central High School of Cleveland, OH, Jessie met her future husband Roy J. Bush. Jessie and Roy were married November 24, 1948. To this union, one child was born, Dana Michelle.

Jessie had many interests and pastimes. She bowled in various city leagues for over 40 years. She loved to go fishing with Roy, to travel, to attend live performances and music shows. Her home was always open to anyone who stopped by and she loved to entertain and provide hospitality to all who visited her home.

Jessie was preceded in death by her husband of 65 years, Roy, her parents, Corance and Rosa, her sister, Dorothy Wilborn, and her brother, Willie Avery.

Jessie leaves to cherish her memories: her daughter, Dana Bush; her grandson, Austin Rozier-Bush; her sister-in-law, Minnie Avery; her nephews, Rev. Claudie Williams (Sandra), Kevin Hill, Terrance, Jermaine and Marlon Lewis, NaShawn Williams Sr.; her nieces, Phyllis Diane Mines, Phyllis Williams, Joann Williams, Yolanda Avery; her cousins, Ernestine Mitchell, Vickie Simpson-Brooks, Linda Reynold, Lewis Simpson, Juanita Alliston, Eileen Jackson-Carpenter, Iva Stanford, and Iris Harris; and a host of other relatives and friends.
