

Forever My Noodle

So little, so sweet, the prettiest little girl you'll ever meet. Although your time was short, I enjoyed every bit. TT will miss you so very much, but I won't throw a fit. Fly so high my noodle and let everyone know "you got it girl". Once that work is done, show them your princess twirl. Until we meet again, I'll never forget you. TT love you so much and you'll forever and always be my noodle

Love TT
Amira

Red Qui, so smart so nice
So sweet! Bright eyes at all times
Saying I'm all about mines...
Get dressed, so fresh hollering
Divatude at its best and the smile, shining like stars,
letting us know she's all of ours.
Always loving you baby rest easy

Obituary

Ka'Mari Derriona Maddox, was born August 26, 2017, in Cleveland, Ohio to Marquita Woods and Kelvon Maddox Sr. She had one brother, Kelvon Maddox Jr.

Ka'Mari was a loving sweet child who loved to smile and suck her tongue. She was very affectionate to people she knew and loved. She would sit and squeeze your arm as it would comfort her. Ka'Mari was such a little princess who loved lip gloss, keeping her nails polished and playing dress up in her fairytale costumes. She loved her baby dolls, she would take good care of them as if she were their real mother.

Ka'Mari loved to sing, and she loved to talk. She loved food and her favorite food was strawberries. Ka'Mari loved her bubble bathes she did not like getting dirt on her. She was such a diva. She was quiet but when she would speak, it was amazing how well she spoke. She was the "boss baby". She did not play about her brother, Kelvon even when he made her mad she still had him right by her side. She loved her mother she was a "mommy girl". Ka'Mari was so beautiful and enjoyable to be around. She will truly be missed.

Ka'Mari leaves behind to cherish her memory her mother, Marquita, her father, Kelvon Sr., , her brother, Kelvon Jr., her grandparents , Zaida (Omar) McConnell, Julian Woods, Laquanna Knox, Kevin Maddox. Her nannie, Flora Knox, two uncles, Decarlos, and Larry, three aunties: Chasity, Brittany and Amira. A host of great aunties, great uncles, cousins and friends.
