

Don't Cry For Me

Don't Cry for me, because I'm free, I'm gone to a place that's been prepared for me, a place where there will be no more pain, crying, nor sorrow, yes, I'm free. Let my work on this journey speak for me because I'm gone, to be with my Master for all eternity, to that place that's been prepared for me. Don't cry for me.

I ran the race, and now I can see my sweet Jesus's face, yes my sweet Jesus face, Yes I'm free, yes, let me work while on this journey speak for me.

Obituary

Jared Ladelle Hays, was born on August 3, 1981, in Cleveland, Ohio to Sandra F. Hays & Jared Harper. He was the second oldest of eight siblings. Preceding him in death was his brother, Gerald. Jared was educated in Cleveland, and graduated through Job Corps.

As a little boy Jared always tinkered with electronics. He would take things apart, see how things work and put them back together. He self taught himself to fix tv's, radios and fans. It was amazing to see him bring items home where people would put them on the street for garbage and he would fix them back to brand new.

Jared eventually started working on cars, and honed his skills as a student at Aviation High School. He became an auto mechanic thereafter, working in Cleveland, Chicago and South Carolina.

In 2011, Jared met and married Rochelle Rivers, who preceded him in death.

Jared departed this life on, June 17, 2024 in Greenville, North Carolina. He leaves to mourn his parents, Sandra and Jared, his daughter, Jaelyn Bracey, son, Jaden Hays, siblings, Arlandus Hays (Lakeisha) of Winston, Salem, NC, Denoris, Labelle, Nepsie of Statesville, NC, Heaven and Nevaeh of Columbia, SC. With a host of grandparents, aunts, uncles, great aunts , great uncles ,great-great aunts and great great-uncles, nieces, nephews, cousins and friends.

Humbly submitted,
